

Should we let criminals vote?

Prompted by a [sarcasm] surprisingly emotive [/sarcasm] piece at news.com.au. Should we let criminals vote?

My view – yes. Why? It's an essential check and balance. You don't want a government staying in power by figuring out how to declare a section of the community as "criminal."

Does that make me bad?

