

Q&A: Badly worded my question about your being an on-line pastor...I should have asked how many pastors' sermons are recorded for on-line listening and were you the first for Tasmania and are there many in Australia doing this?

Not sure how many pastor's sermons are recorded online. But I'm sure I wasn't the first.

I know Anglican Parish of Kingston have sermons:
<https://www.apok.org/modules/wfdownloads/>

And Wellspring:
<http://www.wellspring.org.au/index.php?page=sermons>

And St. Johns' Launceston:
<http://www.stjohns.net.au/?q=sermons>

It really is a pretty common thing these days. Google around.

My sermons from the 9:30 Congregation in Burnie are also recorded (using my phone!). Available here:
<http://burnieanglican.org.au/burnie/sermons/>

Connections sermons are, of course, here:
<http://burnieanglican.org.au/connections/category/teaching/>

Originally: <http://www.formspring.me/briggswill/q/858950432>