

Q&A: If you could invent one thing, what would it be?

It's almost 2015 => Decent, effective anti-gravity devices => Hover boards!

Oh, and something to help world hunger... or world peace... but I think they have more to do with human decision-making rather than technology.

Originally: <http://www.formspring.me/briggswill/q/744937567>