

Something anthemic

Rend Collective have released their new album, As Family We Go. Here's the introductory video.

It's rare that I come across something that is so anthemic to the way Gill and I seek to lead life.

We as a church were never meant to be a timid club huddled together for safety, but a pilgrim family progress, chasing after the wild lion heart of God...

We weren't created to journey through life alone, but we're called "the family of God" for a reason...

We've got to break out of the cages of safety and fear into the wide open spaces of the unknown trusting that nothing is impossible with God...

We were never intended to go this road alone, we were given to each other as family, and as family we go.
